

Grayling Shocked By Death of Young Mother

Shocking news came over the wires Sunday morning from Reed City, telling of the passing at 2:30 o'clock that morning of Miss Kathryn Brown-Wurzburg, at the Reed City hospital. The young woman had been ill with streptococcus infection of the throat for four weeks; complications set in Saturday that made the case a hopeless one and relatives from Grayling were called that night to her bedside. Her mother Mrs. Andrew Brown, however, had been with her daughter from the time she was taken ill. The message brought sadness to countless hearts in Grayling as it seems just about everyone, young and old, knew "Katie" as she was familiarly known.

Born in Frederic on August 9, 1902, her entire life was spent in Crawford county, she coming to Grayling with her parents when she was a child. She attended Grayling schools and after leaving school joined the clerical force at the Central Drug Store, where for many years she was a familiar figure. On November 2, 1932, her marriage to Mr. Daniel Wurzburg of Northport occurred, and she left Grayling to reside in Manistec, later in Rockford and two years ago Mr. Wurzburg, who is a member of the State Constabulary, was transferred to the Reed City post.

Even after leaving Grayling Mrs. Wurzburg came home frequently and their two little daughters, Yvonne, age 4, and Marlene, age 2, were born in Grayling. There is nothing so sad than to have a mother parted from young children, and this is the case of this young wife and mother; she has been snatched from two lovely little daughters, who will as years roll on, miss that mother's love and guidance. Mrs. Wurzburg was a beautiful mother and homemaker.

Funeral services were held in Reed City Tuesday morning and the remains brought to Grayling for services at Michelson Memorial church that afternoon. Many from Reed City accompanied the remains, and the church was filled to capacity with sorrowing relatives and friends. The remains lie in state in the church amidst what seemed a beautiful garden, there was such an abundance of flowers, all symbols of the sincere sympathy of hosts of friends.

Rev. Arthur Gay of Fremont, Mich., an old friend of the Brown family for a long number of years delivered a very impressive sermon, and Mrs. Roy Mines, accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Clippert, beautifully rendered "Asleep in Jesus" and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye".

Young men, who were former pupils of Mrs. Wurzburg, when she taught Sunday school in this same church, were the pallbearers. Arthur May, Myrton Burrows, Kenneth Gothro, Gordon Pond, Gerald Herrick, and Alfred Sorenson. Members of the State Police of Reed City were honorary pallbearers. Interment was in Traverse City.

Surviving the deceased besides her husband and the two young daughters are her mother Mrs. Andrew Brown and three brothers, John of Ann Arbor, and Roy and Carley of Grayling.

There are numerous relatives and friends who came from a distance to attend the services, and among them were Mr. Wurzburg's mother, Mrs. Eva Wurzburg of Northport; Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Minnie Rankin, Johannesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lambert and son, Mrs. Roy Reynolds, Flint; Mrs. Alice Rook, Columbiaville; Mrs. Lenabelle Struble, Mt. Pleasant; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wurzburg and family of Charlotte, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wurzburg, of West Virginia.

AGED RESIDENT PASSED AWAY

A well known resident of Grayling for a half century, Mrs. Julia LaVenture, passed away at her home Saturday at the age of 81. She had only been seriously ill for about two weeks and died of arterio sclerosis.

Julia Goulet was born in Bangor, Maine, December 2, 1856. She was united in marriage to Solomon LaVenture, and to this union three daughters were born. Some twenty years ago Mr. LaVenture passed away.

Funeral services were held at the family residence Tuesday, October 11, at 11 a. m., Rev. Fr. James Moloney of St. Mary's church officiating. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery. Those surviving are the daughters, Mrs. Marie Hinkley, Grayling; Mrs. Fred Galbraith, Mrs. Bert Compeau, Wyandotte, and seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Pallbearers were Russell Buck, Norman Bancroft, Jake Hanselman, John LaMotte, David Perry, and Peter Lovely.

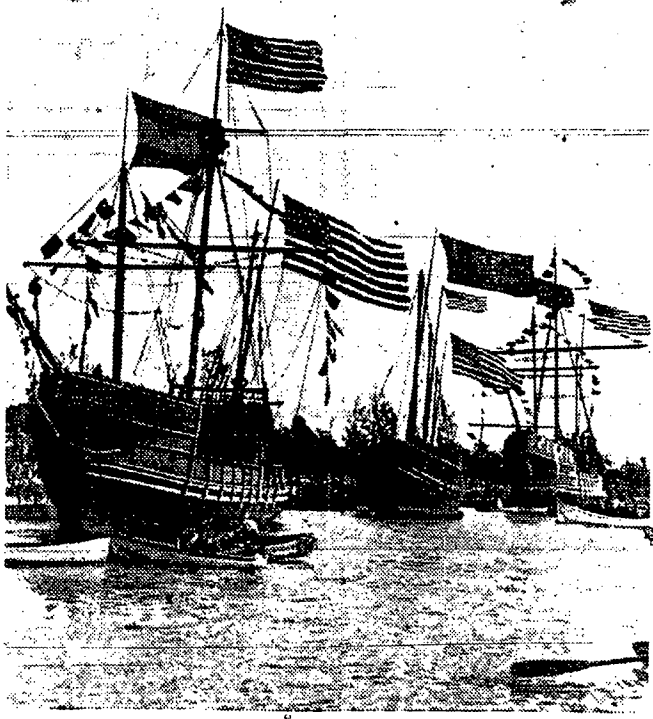

Besides the family there are many people in Grayling who will miss Mrs. LaVenture as she always went for her daily walk. As old as she was she never missed a walk every day, unless illness kept her home.

The family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Celebration of Columbus Day Recalls Three Famed Replicas

Each year, as America observes Columbus day, attention is focused on Jackson park in Chicago, where stands the sole survivor of three caravels—exact replicas of Columbus' Pinta, Nina and Santa Maria—which were constructed in Spain for the Columbian exposition. The Pinta and Nina were destroyed by fire in 1919 but the Santa Maria (in the background) is still afloat. The boats in which Columbus made his pioneering voyage are dwarfed by modern ocean liners. For comparison, note the rowboats in foreground.

Mrs. Fournier Follows Husband In Death

MRS. JOEL FOURNIER SUCCEEDS FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Violet Fournier, widow of the late Joel Fournier, passed away at her home at 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning, following a long illness, having been confined to her bed for several weeks. Mrs. Fournier was preceded in death by her husband, just four weeks ago, he passing away on Sept. 6.

Funeral services for the deceased were held Monday morning with a requiem mass at St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. James Moloney officiating. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery and pallbearers were the same as those who bore Mr. Fournier to his last resting place: Conrad and Harry Sorenson, Carl Jensen, Earl Nelson, George Bielski and Frank LaMotte.

Mrs. Fournier's maiden name was Violet Brethorne and she was born in New Market, Ontario. She was united in marriage to Joel Fournier in 1911 and they came to Grayling in 1913 and this had been their home since. Last fall Mrs. Fournier's daughter, Mrs. Boyes, built a comfortable home for her parents and they seemed to be enjoying life when both were taken ill and passed away within a short time of each other.

Surviving the deceased are her daughter Mrs. Cecil Boyes of Winnipeg, Manitoba, who has been at her mother's bedside ever since she was taken ill; her son Claude Cardinal, Grayling, one sister Mrs. Angie Canniff, Grayling; one brother, Frank Cardinal, Saginaw; two grandchildren, Miss Wanda Cardinal, Grayling, and Gerald Cardinal, Detroit, all of whom have the sympathy of many friends.

All of the above were in attendance at the funeral together with Mr. Boyes of Winnipeg; Joseph Fournier, Mrs. Abner Willyard, Mrs. Vina Lepan, Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Duso, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Ammon, Mrs. Rose Deitiker, Mrs. Mary Cardinal, Misses Doris and Genevieve Ammon, Bruce Archangle, Mrs. Laura Bauer, Saginaw.

Mrs. Fournier was very patient during her long illness. She was a woman who spent most of her time in her home and she had many friends as was shown by the score of spiritual bouquets and abundance of flowers that covered her casket.

Would Defeat Welfare Amendment

REPRESENTATIVES 20 COUNTIES TO MEET HERE TUESDAY

Announcements have been sent out of a large district meeting, comprising 20 counties, to be held in Grayling October 18th, with speakers to talk on the proposed Welfare amendment. This is to arouse enthusiasm against the welfare bills. The meeting will be at 10:30 a. m. at the Court house.

It is expected that county organizations will be formed at the meeting, and it is hoped that there will be upwards of 100 people from each county, representing county, city, and township officials, school board members, professional and business men, Legionnaires, tax payers and private citizens.

Senator D. Hale Brake of Station, co-author of the amendment, last week addressed the Kiwanis club on the proposed amendment and quite convinced the members of the club that it should be approved at the polls November 8th. It is well that we should hear both sides of the question and we would urge Kiwanians to attend the above mentioned meeting and listen to what the speakers have to say on the subject.

WOMANS CLUB GAINS COMMENDATION AT CONVENTION

The seventeenth annual convention of the Northeastern District of Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs was held in Alpena, October 5th and 6th, with Miss Frances Garvey of Alpena presiding as president.

The highlight of the convention culminated at the banquet held on Tuesday evening with Miss Tony Sender of the former German Reichstag as a most dynamic speaker.

The Grayling Woman's club was represented by Mrs. Stanley Stealy, who received commendation from Miss Garvey for the report of the club activities for the past year, which included furnishing milk for 75 school children with a total expenditure of $295 which included $88 paid by children. The club also donated to the Emma E. Fox foundation $5, and the Mary E. Thompson Scholarship $5. The reforestation project in Ogemaw county sponsored by Women's Clubs also received $250.

A home talent play was produced and 58 dollars cleared after payment of the royalty. This play "Howdy Stranger" was seen on the local screen with the title of "The Cowboy From Brooklyn." A musicale tea was sponsored and a delegate sent to the district meeting at East

Legion-Auxiliary Held Joint Installation

Grayling Post No. 100 and the Women's Auxiliary held a joint installation of officers at the Legion hall Monday night, and at the same time entertained a number of out-of-town visitors. They had the pleasure of having the newly elected district committeeman, Ernest Andrews of West Branch, here for the evening. Comrade Andrews acted as installing officer for the Post's installation and was assisted by Gus Sachos, who is district sergeant-at-arms, Earl Dawson, commander, and Bernard Towne, adjutant of Ogemaw Post, and Louis Meyers of St. Helen. The visiting comrades are all members of Ogemaw Post, and they came clad in regulation uniform and made the installation ceremony one of the most impressive the local post has had in some time.

For the ladies' ceremonies, Mrs. Earl Dawson of West Branch acted as installing officer and this was also carried out very nicely. Other lady visitors were Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Fred Tinker and Mrs. Edward Oliver, all of the Ogemaw Auxiliary. Following the ceremony, Mrs. Dawson was presented with a corsage of various colored snapdragons.

When the meeting adjourned the crowd went to the dining room for pot luck lunch served on long tables centered with bouquets of snapdragons. Grayling Post's new commander John McMillan, acting as toastmaster, called off a number of remarks and many impromptu talks were given. District Committeeman Andrews gave a summary of the many activities ahead for the various Posts in the 10th district for the year.

Mrs. Samuel Rasmussen expressed her appreciation to Mrs. Dawson, and said that the evening was made a very pleasant one by the presence of the visitors. Other speakers included Mrs. Dawson, Mr. Meyers, Past commanders Earl Wood and John Erkes, Charles Moore and Clarence Johnson. The latter told of the plans being made for the Drum corps to be in attendance at the national convention in 1939 in Chicago. He said a committee had already made application for reservations, and plans will soon go forth to raise funds to finance the trip. So it looks as though the City of Grayling will be well represented at the Chicago convention.

The new year begins with memberships in the Post and Auxiliary rolling in fast, and officers and members are showing a lot of enthusiasm to carry on the year's work, so it looks like a banner year.

Officers of Grayling Post for 1939 are:

Post Commander—John McMillan.
Vice Com.—Edwin Carlson.
Adjutant—Otto Failing.
Finance Officer—Wilfred Laurant.

Chaplain—Neil Mathews.
Sergeant-at-arms—Harold Hatfield.

Officers of the Auxiliary are:

President—Mrs. Samuel Rasmussen.
1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. Carlton Wythe.
2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. Charles Tinker.

Sec'y—Mrs. Alfred Hanson.
Treas.—Mrs. J. L. Martin.
Chaplain—Mrs. John Erkes.
Sergeant-at-arms—Mrs. Leo Jorgenson.

Tawas and the State convention at Detroit. A Campfire Girls party was held at Christmas and clothing was donated to the Michigan Children's Aid.

This report showed activity and results and was one of the most commendable given.

Mrs. Stealy also acted on the nominating committee during the convention, of which Mrs. A. E. Mulder of Clare was chairman and the other member was Mrs. E. S. Evans of East Tawas.

Miss Frances Garvey of Alpena was reelected president and Mrs. F. E. Kunze of East Tawas reelected vice-president. Mrs. Lloyd Wagner and Mrs. Henry Gardiner of Harrison were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, succeeding Mrs. W. H. Caple of Clare and Miss Bertha Srtosacher of Midland.

NO ONE WANTS TO PAY
FOR MORE THAN HE NEEDS
IN ONE PLACE WHILE OTHER VITAL SPOTS ARE LEFT UNPROTECTED

Yet most homeowners, we find, do not have insurance policies which fit present-day values and changing conditions. They are apt to have their home OVER-insured. Because very few persons read and understand the provisions of their Insurance Policy, the deficiencies rarely come to light until after a fire, or other calamity. Then it may be revealed that the insurance was ill-fitted to cope with actual needs. Too much here—not enough there—just like the fellow with two overcoats and no trousers.

SPECIALIST'S VICTIM

Doctor—Aren't you the same person I treated last year?
Ex-Patient—No, not the same—and never will be again, I fear.

Double Fault
"Yes," said Mrs. Newkind, "my husband is awfully careless. He's always losing the buttons off his clothes."
"Perhaps," replied Mrs. Oldstyle, "the buttons are not sewn on carefully."
"That's another trouble," was the reply. "Jack's so terribly slipshod with his sewing, too."

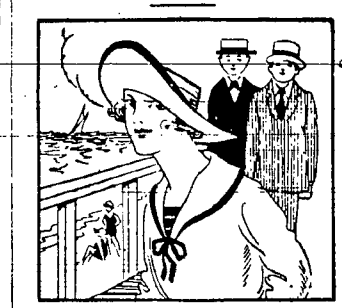

Johnny Knew
The wealthy uncle was visiting the family, and Johnny kept insisting that the uncle take him fishing.
"But why do you ask? I don't have any tackle," said the uncle.
"Sure you do!" Johnny exclaimed. "Everybody says your pockets are lined with fishhooks." — Houston Post.

A Lap Ahead of Her
Time: 12:30 a. m.—Scene: (It's so dark in the parlor we can't tell.)
Mother (from upstairs)—Susie! Remember what I told you—if that young man gets tired, squelch him properly!
Susie (after a moment)—Yes, Mother. I'll sit on him!

Variety
"Your boy Joshy says he's going to town to seek employment."
"Yep," answered Farmer Cornfussel, "I don't blame him. Everybody feels occasionally like gettin' away an' lookin' fur work 'sild o' stayin' where he knows it'll be waitin' for him regular." — Washington Star.

Postponed Abolition
Mother—Junior, you didn't wash your face this morning.
Efficiency Expert's Little Boy—No, mother—I heard you say we were going to have grapefruit for breakfast.

SILLY QUESTION

"She is a perfect picture!"
"Painted by nature or herself?"

Got Left
Fitzjones—Did you go to the theater last evening, Percy?
DeBrown—No; I attended a sleight-of-hand performance.
Fitzjones—Where?
DeBrown—I went to call on Miss Le Smythe, and offered her my hand, but she slighted it.

Nice Manners
Mama—I was glad to see you remembered not to throw the orange peel on the floor of the bus, Johnny.
Johnny—Yes, mother, I remembered what you said about being neat. I put it in the pocket of the man in the next seat.

Acquaintances
An enthusiastic golfer came home to dinner. During the meal his wife said:
"Willie tell me he caddied for you this afternoon."
"Well, do you know," said Willie's father, "I thought I'd seen that boy before." — El Paso Times.

High Class
"Boy, have we got a ritzy secretary at our office—!" writes Hector. "When she wants to find out who's calling on the phone, she asks very loftily: 'This is Mister Whom?'" — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Splendid
Father—And what are your prospects?
Sutor—Splendid, sir, unless your daughter has been misleading me. — Philadelphia Bulletin.

Prudent
Wife—I want some money.
Hubby—Say, what did you do with that last dollar I gave you?
Wife—I spent 37 cents in 1938, 40 cents in 1937, and 23 cents this year.

LAND SALE—DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION FOR THE STATE OF MICHIGAN

Notice is hereby given, That pursuant to the provisions of Sections 127 and 131, of the General Tax Law, certain abandoned tax land, situate in the county of Crawford, and deeded to the State by the Auditor General, has been withdrawn from home stead entry by the Auditor General and Director of Conservation, acting jointly, examined and appraised, and will be placed on the market by offering the same at a Public Auction to be held at the County Court House, Grayling, Michigan, October 26, 1938, at three o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time.

As required by Act 152, P. A. 1933, a list of the property to be offered at this auction is on file in the county treasurer's office at Grayling, Michigan. Lists also available at Lansing, Conservation Department office.

In accordance with Section 6, Act 155, P. A. 1937, the successful bidder at time of sale will receive a thirty day certificate of purchase. If the property is not redeemed in accordance with the statute at the expiration of thirty days from and after the date of public sale, such successful bidder may surrender his certificate of purchase to the Lands Division, Department of Conservation, and will then be entitled to a regular state deed. In event the property is so redeemed, the successful bidder will be entitled to the return of the full amount of the purchase price upon surrender of his purchase certificate.

Such state deed will contain a clause reserving to the State of Michigan all minerals including sand, gravel, coal, oil and gas rights, together with the rights of ingress and egress over any of such lands lying along any water course or stream, as required by Section 3 of Act 230, Public Acts of 1909, as amended; and further reserving to the State of Michigan all aboriginal antiquities and the right to explore and excavate for same, pursuant to the provisions of Act 173, Public Acts of 1909.

Department of Conservation,
By P. J. Hoffmaster, Director.

Order of the Conservation Commission—Raccoon in the Lower Peninsula.

The Director of Conservation, having made a thorough investigation relative to trapping of raccoons in the Lower Peninsula, recommends certain regulations.

Therefore, the Conservation Commission, by authority of Act 240, P. A. 1925, hereby orders that for a period of one year it shall be unlawful to trap raccoon in the Lower Peninsula north of the north line of T. 16 N. and west of Saginaw Bay excepting from November 15 to December 15, 1938, inclusive, and south of the north line of T. 16 N. and east of Saginaw Bay, including all of Huron County, excepting from December 1 to December 15, 1938, inclusive.

Signed, sealed and ordered published this 16th day of June, 1938.

P. J. Hoffmaster, Director, Department of Conservation.

YOUR Driver's License is a PRIVILEGE Drive CAREFULLY or You'll LOSE IT

What is a driver's license? Something that you've got to show the traffic officer when you get in trouble? To many people, a driver's license seems to represent special privileges. As a matter of fact, the fact that you possess a driver's license is, in itself, a privilege. Stop and think. Why does the law require a motorist to carry his driver's license at all times? Is it as a means of identification when the man is rendered unconscious in an automobile accident? If that's the way you do feel about it, that's very likely the way your driver's license will serve you. No! Your driver's license is issued to you as an indication that you are sound of mind and body . . . that you have completely familiarized yourself with traffic rules and regulations.

DO you know what is and is not permitted in driving? DO you strive to protect your own life and the lives of others when you drive? Unless you do . . . the day will come when your driver's license . . . a privilege granted by the people of this state to you, will be taken from you. Drive carefully!

Executions Before Dawn

Custom of Sunworshippers

It is impossible to say just how dawn became the favorite time for executions. The custom of putting condemned persons to death early in the morning has been prevalent since ancient times, observes an authority in the Indianapolis News. One writer suggests that it may be a survival of the practices of prehistoric sun worshippers who offered human sacrifices to the sun as it rose in the East. Another thinks the practice is of military origin; persons condemned in the military are generally shot as early as possible on the specified day, that is, just as soon as it is light enough for the firing squad to see to take aim.

There are several reasons for following the custom. The day on which an execution is to take place is set by the court; the exact hour is left to the discretion of prison officials. Usually the unpleasant task is performed when it will interfere least with the routine of prison life, which is as early as possible in the day, when the prisoners are in their cells and most of them are asleep.

An execution has an unfavorable influence on all the inmates of a prison and, if the condemned prisoners were electrocuted or hanged during the day or early in the night, their fellow prisoners might be incited to riot. Where executions are public the number of spectators is reduced by having them at dawn.

Whalebone Not Bone; It

Grows on Roof of Mouth

Whalebone is not bone and it has none of the properties of bone. The term is a popular name for an elastic, fibrous substance that grows on the roof of the mouth of right and certain other species of whales.

Whalebone, more properly called baleen, consists of a series of thin parallel plates on the palate and is a horny exaggeration of the ridges found on the roof of the mouth of most mammals. Baleen plates have been known to reach a length of 15 feet, although they seldom exceed 12 feet, even in the largest whalebone whales, states a writer in the Indianapolis News. "They take the place of teeth and their function is to strain the water that the creature takes up in large mouthfuls. Because of its lightness, flexibility and toughness, whalebone is used in corsets, stays and other articles for stiffening women's dresses."

Whalers prepare the product for the market by boiling it until it is quite soft and then cutting it into strips of the required size. Formerly the whale was often confused with the walrus and other sea animals and the expression "white as whale's bone" originally meant white as walrus ivory.

Battalion of American Deserters

The "El Battalion de San Patricio" or "San Patricio Battalion," also known as the "Legion of Strangers" and the "Foreign Legion," was captured in the battle of Churubusco about August 18-20, 1847, while being led by one John Reilly, a former private of Company K, Fifth United States Infantry, from which he had deserted. Three hundred and eighty prisoners were captured at said battle, 72 of whom were found to be deserters from the United States army, who had taken up arms against the United States to enlist in the Mexican service. All were tried and sentenced by a general court-martial. Reilly was sentenced to be hanged, but the sentence was commuted to 50 lashes with a rawhide whip well laid on the back, branding on the cheek with the letter "D," close imprisonment as long as the army remained in Mexico, and then drumming out of the service.

Used Animal-Skin Bottles

The first bottles were of animal skins which were sewed up. One leg was left open as the bottle's neck. This was closed with a plug or tied with string. "Such containers are used for wine in southern Europe, for water in China. Thousands of years ago, says the Washington Post, the Egyptians made glass bottles. They also had them of stone, ivory, bone, porcelain, bronze, gold and pottery. Bottles are made by blowing glass into molds of the desired shapes. Bottoms and necks are finished last. Done chiefly by machinery in the United States, this is an honored hand art in Europe, the secrets of which are guarded jealously by families of craftsmen.

Coins Stolen by Birds

Gold and silver coins, some of which are valuable, were found by workmen while felling a tree near Cologne, Germany. The tree was a large lime in which storks had for several years made their nests. The men could not ascertain whether the collection had been made by magpies or other birds with thieving tendencies or whether the storks had stored them.

Police Dogs Motorized

New South Wales is establishing a police dog emergency service which will be available to all parts of the province. Many of the principal police stations will have specially trained dogs to help in sleuthing and rescue work. Special kennels mounted on automobile chassis will speed the animals to places in response to emergency calls.

DEPT. OF STATE

STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Motorists Protected From Buying

Stolen Cars From Other States

To protect the prospective purchaser of used and new cars from out of state, Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, has recently inaugurated a system of checking motor and serial numbers of cars purchased out of state.

Before the title of the car is delivered, the department of state investigators or branch managers make a physical investigation of the car to make certain that the actual motor number and serial number on the car correspond to those on the bill of sale or certificate of registration and title of the former state.

By this method it has been discovered in a great many cases that the numbers do not correspond. In such instances the incorrect number is checked against the stolen car report to eliminate the possibility of a dealer or individual buying a stolen car. If no stolen report is found, it is then necessary for the seller to have his home state correct the error and certify the same before Michigan will issue a certificate of title.

Experience has shown that the average driver has no idea as to whether the motor number on his certificate of title is actually the one embossed on the motor of his car.

No. 7 Publics Total Some 40,000

Every twelve minutes of every working day, Michigan gains another Notary Public. There are now some 40,000 listed in the files of the Department of State.

Appointments are made by the Governor, commissions are issued by the Secretary of State. There are several interesting facts to be found in the records of Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, about this public office which has survived in modern form from a century old practice in England.

More commissions were issued last year than have been previously issued in any one year; the total for the year being 11,205. The average number of commissions issued per year over a ten year period, is approximately 10,000.

The commission term is for four years, except when the notary is removed for cause. There is now one notary for every 125 people in the State of Michigan. Any citizen of the state, 21 years of age or over, endorsed by a Circuit or Probate Judge or a Member of the Legislature may apply to the Governor for a commission.

A fee of $1.00 which goes to the state's general fund must accompany the application. The commissions are sent to the County Clerks, who notify the applicants. Applicants must then file bonds of $1,000.00 each and pay the County Clerk a fee of fifty cents. If the bond is not filed within ninety days the commission is withdrawn.

A vast system of man made locks which hold 30 feet of tide water in the "front yard" of Liverpool, make that city a famous port. When high tide water comes into the Mersey river, the boats come with it. The locks are closed and the ships are secure because the locks maintain a constant level.

The Safety Man

Now that schools are again in session, a few words of warning to parents are timely.

Teach your children to be extremely careful on their way to school, teach them to cross streets only at intersections, and then only after they have looked to left and right. If it is necessary for your children to walk on the highways, instruct them to walk on the left hand side and to step off the road if necessary. Remind them daily!

School patrols stationed at busy intersections near schools have made crossing streets easier and safer for our children. Yet accidents happen not only where traffic is heavy, but also where traffic is light.

Urge your children to use good judgment on their trips to and from school.

There are two things that you should give your children—a good example and a good education. A good example is also a safe example.

Recently I had a very strange experience. I saw a young child, whom I had just overheard tell his mother that he had been instructed not to cross in the middle of the block, suddenly and literally yanked off the sidewalk in the middle of the block by his parent and marched across the street.

That kind of example belittles the safety effort and the safety idea in the mind of the child. Set the right and the safe example.

Circuit Court Session Was Short

The October term of Circuit court convened at the Court House Tuesday afternoon, with Judge John C. Shaffer on the bench. It was a short session, closing Wednesday afternoon.

Gaylord Knight of Roscommon, charged with violation of the game laws, paid a fine of $50.00 and costs. This case was appealed from justice court but appeared for dismissal leaving judgment from the lower court in effect.

William Emery, also of Roscommon, charged with the same offense, proved that he was not guilty of the crime and the case was dismissed by the prosecutor. In the case of the People vs. Raymond Jordan, he pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and was placed on two years probation.

The case of William C. Kama, charged with larceny of an automobile, was continued to the next term of court.

each was sentenced to pay a fine of $25.00 and each put on two years probation.

In the matter of the assignment for the benefit of creditors of Markus Hans, doing business as the Bank of Grayling an order was entered to make settlement of the C. W. Olson estate with the Bank.

The Fred Wainwright mortgage was discharged.

The remainder of the cases on the calendar were continued to the next term of court.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT TWICE

Saturday evening about six o'clock the City fire department was called to the M. E. parsonage to put out a fire that had started in one corner of the garage. Again Sunday morning about 4 o'clock firemen were called out of their sleep when fire was discovered at John Loper's. The barn in back of the house was in flames when the fire department was called, and burned to the ground. Origin of either fire is unknown.

Oil Men Oppose Road Fund Diversion

Refutation of the proposed good road's amendment to the state's constitution to dedicate automotive taxes exclusively for road funds was urged last night at a meeting of gasoline dealers and others engaged in the petroleum industry at a meeting at Grayling. The oil men formed the Crawford County Petroleum Industries committee to carry on activities to protect themselves and their motorist customers from unfair taxation.

George Burke of Grayling was chosen chairman.

E. P. Brose, assistant secretary of the state organization, declared: "More than 200,000 public-minded citizens of Michigan have signed petitions for submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment requiring that automotive tax funds be used for their intended purpose, the improvement of roads. The question will appear on the ballots at the coming election and every fair-minded voter, whether he owns a car or not, should vote for amendment number three."

"All that the proposed amendment will do is to give a square deal to the men and women who pay more than $50,000,000 annually in special automotive taxes," continued Mr. Brose. "These motorists and other highway users also pay all the general taxes. If a part of their special taxes, paid for road improvement, are to be taken for general purposes, as has been proposed recently by certain groups in Michigan, then they will be doubly taxed unfairly as a class merely because they happen to use the highways of the state."

'Powder Face' In Bold Protest

How a man dead for many years emerged from his grave to halt a timber drive on Thunder Bay River in Alpena county is revealed in field notes of a Federal Writers' Project worker.

The man was "Powder Face" Johnson, a member of the first survey crew in Alpena county, back in 1842. Johnson died and was buried, feet to the river, just east of Hillman. There he lay for years on the river bank in the undisturbed peace of the forest—until lumberjacks came to log the rich timber stands.

The rollways were filling rapidly when Johnson again entered the scene.

Men who know what it means for Wife to "put her foot down" may understand what it meant to the superstitious woods crew to find that "Powder Face" had poked his feet out over the banks as if to bar their way. They refused to work in the vicinity.

A resourceful foreman, however, induced one of the bolder men to hack away the leg-bones with an axe, and the drive was made successfully. Even today the place is known as Dead Man's Landing—a wayside point near a little-used road in Green township.

SCHOOL NEWS

Monday the high school had the pleasure of hearing "Corporal Bob", who was an official army photographer during the World War, address them. He presented a vivid picture of the war as seen by the eyes of a photographer which could hardly fail to leave a deep impression on all who heard him speak.

The possibilities of a good sized band for Grayling High School is growing as new members are continually enrolling, almost every day. At present one out of every five students in the upper six grades is enrolled in the musical organization, which began to take form less than six weeks ago.

The band is divided into four groups, each meeting once a day, and at present are deep in the fundamentals of the respective instruments. In a few days the groups will begin to work on some music playable in public performances.

Following are the names of the players and their instruments:

Clarinet—Ed Funck, Yvonne Bradley, Jean Stevenson, Delores Case, Pat Roberts, Jack Redhead, Kathryn Charron, Betty Parsons, Ruth Stevenson, Laurence Cady, Zina Stephan, Alberta Knibbs, Yvette Stephan.

Cornet—Frank Jensen, Norma Parker, Rose Mary Charron, Bob Tiffin, Francis Malloy, Sandy Thompson, Allen Stevenson, Raymond Andrus, Billie Hensley, Teddy Cody.

THE DESTROYER

The Destroyers, nicknamed "Tin Cans" by the men of the Navy are the tiny war dogs of the service. They are the first love of any sailor-man who has ever served on them.

They are small, fast, unarmored vessels which carry a heavy armament of torpedo tubes, a small number of guns and are employed to attack larger enemy ships with torpedoes. They are used in fleet battles to attack en-masse. Their high speed and small size admirably suit them to harass an enemy fleet at night.

When cruisers are not present in sufficient numbers, destroyers are used to scout, screen and act as escorts for unarmed or weak vessels.

Destroyers are also armed with depth charges for the purpose of attacking submerged submarines.

Picturesque Roof
In Norway one may see little cottages roofed with deep sod, where grass and wild flowers grow, and where sometimes a goat may be seen grazing contentedly.

Advising a busy executive to shun his office for a brief period each day in order to stroll through country lanes is like suggesting to an habitual toper that, really, milk is very palatable when one becomes accustomed to the taste.

Both suggestions are likely to fall on deaf ears. Yet, he who seeks emotional stimulus from the conflicts of modern business as well as he who endavors to elevate the spirit by application to the bottle's lik'ly to pay dearly for his indulgence, in poor health and shortened life span.

Medical science works no miracles. It stands helpless before the fact that deaths from heart failure are steadily increasing within the most socially valuable strata of the population. Obituary notices too often allude to "the directing brain of the vast organization." And for a long while it was believed that, somehow, brain work threw a strain on the heart, curtailing many a useful life. "He worked himself to death" is still a commonly employed phrase.

Recent investigations, however, have proved this hypothesis to be in error. "He sat himself to death" now seems to be nearer the truth. For study of mortality statistics shows that farmers, and manual workers are not nearly so subject to coronary occlusion—stoppage of the blood flow to the heart—as are those in sedentary occupations. In fact, those who live and work on the farm may expect to live about five years longer than those of the same age group who work in the city.

In many respects the motor car is the greatest blessing of the twentieth century. From a health standpoint it may be ranked among the greatest curses. Use of the automobile for the execution of even the most trivial errands has eliminated much of the ordinary daily exercises necessary to maintain the tone of the heart vessels and heart muscles.

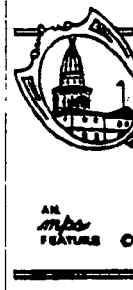

Hardening of the arteries is a natural accompaniment of advancing years, but the process is greatly speeded up by an urban, sedentary mode of life. Generally, too, this manner of living promotes the accumulation of body fat which throws a further strain on the heart.

Too many middle-aged men awaken to a sudden realization of their condition and resolve to "do something about it." What is done usually hastens an unnecessarily early death. Strenuous games of golf played once a week or several times a season, fatiguing hunting trips undertaken for a week or two each year by those with incipient angina pectoris or arterio-sclerotic heart disease almost certainly serve as passports to the beyond.

A saunter of a mile or two daily, a round or two of a gentle morning canter—practices begun in the late thirties or early forties and religiously adhered to—are of inestimable benefit in offsetting the curse of too much civilization. But to adopt such a regimen suddenly in later life is to invite a health hazard which the physician is powerless to avert.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for comforting words and floral offerings, during the short illness and death of our mother, Mr. and Mrs. Max Laage and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blom, and Family.

Lansing—The ides of January will soon be here, and with them a bag of legislative problems will be dumped into the laps of newly elected or re-elected senators and representatives.

Like the old Yule trade cry of only so many days before Christmas is the capital calendar which reckons coming events according to the approach of the 1939 legislative session. And judging from the items already on the docket, Michigan lawmakers face a lengthy ordeal.

Here are some of the pressing matters:

Tax Revision

Revision of Michigan tax structure is likely.

As voters twice rejected a state income tax, it is questionable whether a third attempt would prove any more successful than the previous ones.

The present state tax law on personal property has not been productive, due to difficulty of enforcement. The present state tax commission is known to be receptive to the idea of going after this lucrative field of intangibles.

The state gasoline tax of three cents a gallon may have to withstand legislative assaults. Several neighboring states have hiked this levy to four cents, diverting part of the proceeds for non-highway needs. Outcome of such a move would depend, of course, on what the voters do to amendment No. 3 on the referendum ballot—an amendment to prevent diversion of gas tax funds.

Marketing of Food

Growers of apples, potatoes and dairy products are considering legislative ways to promote the consumption of Michigan products thru co-operative advertising and marketing.

The state department of agriculture is cooperating with a non-partisan legislative committee to draft bills along this line. Success of similar efforts in Maine, Idaho, New York and Wisconsin is spurring the farm leaders. The state would not funds contributed by the growers in the form of a bushel or barrel tax. The Idaho Supreme court recently upheld such a statute.

Labor Legislation

Regardless of the outcome of the Nov. 8 balloting, Michigan is likely to get a labor relations law.

The rectic period of collective bargaining controversy has subsided, as employers generally recognize this right of labor. Both the present administration and the Fitzgerald ticket favor some machinery providing mediation for labor and industry. Murphy vetoed a labor relations bill in 1937 because of protests made chiefly by the C.I.O. and after house Democrats proclaimed the measure had been blessed by the A. F. of L.

Detroit is considering adoption of the Toledo plan for mediation whereby a board is created to serve, whenever requested, for settlement of differences between employee and employer.

Gambling Again

Efforts will be renewed to license dog racing and slot machines probably under the excuse of providing needed revenues for welfare relief.

The dog racing bill was passed by the Democratic house in 1937, only to meet defeat in the senate. The slot machine bill proved to be too daring, however, and it went down. A group of legislators, headed by Rep. John Hamilton of Detroit, favor outright licensing by the state of gambling. Hamilton was a member of a special legislative committee that traveled about the state to focus public attention on this issue.

Unemployment Compensation

The present exemption in the state unemployment compensation law, whereby employers with eight or less employees do not have to pay a state tax, was an issue in the 1937 session. Frank Picard, chairman of the unemployment compensation commission, favors extending the benefits to all employees regardless of the present exemption.

Old age pensions are also under pressure for revision, critics maintaining that the present level is inadequate. The $30-a-month plan has blown up, as far as we have been able to determine. The federal government's action through federal reserve board in declaring such state warrants unconstitutional and unacceptable put a wet rag on this movement.

But politicians are still mindful of the success here and there of the Townsend crusade. If business conditions improve in 1939, old age pensions may be revised upward.

Civil Service

Although the new civil service law strictly forbids solicitation of political funds from state employees, political figures are doing their best to circumvent it.

While the virtues of civil service are being proclaimed, the hat will be passed politely. A donation will be considered another way to prevent unemployment.
